

East Coast Collective ABN 20257599727 ("ECC") does not give or make any guarantee or warranty, or make any representation, as to any outcome; result or benefit the client might achieve or obtain by our services. Any decision to use our services are made based on the scope of works agreed upon and signed off Design documents, without any reliance upon anything other than what is stated in our terms and conditions. ECC's liability to the Client is limited to the statutory warranties provided to every consumer under the Australian Consumer Law and Fair Trading legislation New South Wales. Whilst ECC has taken great care in the creation and development of each project, it cannot and does not warrant that the product is entirely free of accidental errors, omissions or inaccuracies. See full terms and conditions for further details.